The Curriculum and Instruction (C&I) Master's in Education (M.Ed.) Program is a professional development degree and is not linked to the State of Ohio teaching licenses. The C&I M.Ed. offers students a choice of six specializations (Mathematics, Science, English/Language Arts, Social Studies, Middle Childhood, and Curriculum and Teaching) and one concentration (Physical Education). Below are the C&I faculty members who can provide additional information on the specializations and concentration:

Curriculum and Teaching
- Dr. James Henderson
  - jhenders@kent.edu
  - 330-672-0631

Mathematics
- Dr. Joanne Caniglia
  - jcanigl1@kent.edu
  - 330-672-2580

Science
- Dr. Lisa Borgerding
  - ldonnell@kent.edu
  - 330-672-0614

English/Language Arts
- Dr. William Kist
  - wkist@kent.edu
  - 330-672-5839

Middle Childhood
- Dr. Bette Brooks
  - ebrooks@kent.edu
  - 330-672-0536

Social Studies
- Dr. Alicia Crowe
  - acrowe@kent.edu
  - 330-672-0634

Physical Education
- Dr. Connie Collier
  - ccollie2@kent.edu
  - 330-672-0225

Admission Requirements: An applicant must have completed a bachelor's degree and have a 3.0 GPA. A goal statement and two letter of recommendation but also be submitted by the applicant. The C&I M.Ed. does not require a Graduate Record Exam (GRE) score, and it is not necessary to have professional teaching experience to apply. All international applicants must also provide documentation of English language proficiency. Please review the International Admissions Office’s website for details: http://www.kent.edu/admissions/international/language-proficiency.cfm.

Application Process: There are no application deadlines and graduate students are accepted all year. However, if an applicant is seeking fall admission, all required paperwork completed and submitted before March 31st. An application must be completed online through the Division of Graduate Studies: http://www.kent.edu/graduatestudies/index.cfm. Questions regarding the application form should be directed to Graduate Studies via email: gradapps@kent.edu or phone (330) 672-2661. Once an application file is completed, it is forwarded to the C&I M.Ed. Program for review and an admission decision.

Additional Information: The length of time to complete the degree depends on a number of factors, including course availability and personal commitment. Upon entry into the program a student is assigned an initial degree advisor. Once familiar with the C&I faculty, the student may choose a more permanent advisor. An individualized program of study, known as a prospectus, will be created with the advisor. The prospectus lists the required courses for the specialization or concentration. In addition to required course, a student may choose to take courses from any Kent State University department at the main campus or any regional campus. Up to 12 graduate credits can be transferred from accredited colleges or universities, and if the student's advisor(s) agrees, the credits will count toward the completion of the degree.