Research & Evaluation Bureau's Toyota Education Initiatives in STEAM Innovation with Singapore & Ann Arbor Educators

In collaboration with CIIE, the Bureau has been awarded the evaluation of Toyota innovations in STEAM education in an exchange with Ann Arbor and Singapore educators. The multi-disciplinary team from KSU includes Deepa Shanadi, Program Evaluator, Pam Freeman, Han Zhang, with consultation by Linda Robertson and _____.

Funded by Toyota Motor Sales, USA, Inc., and administered by the Institute of International Education (IIE), this professional development program for US secondary school educators is designed to support efforts to prepare and inspire an increased number of US students to study and pursue careers in STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and mathematics) fields. Han Zhang will travel with the Ann Arbor educators to Singapore this summer as the on-site evaluator. The study will determine if this kind of teacher exchange is replicable and scalable.

Early Childhood Program Montessori Hersey Foundation Curriculum in a CupboardTM is a project of Marty Lash, Associate Professor, Teaching, Learning, & Curriculum Studies and the Early Childhood Education team. The vision for the Early Childhood Education classroom is to redesign it as a Global Early Childhood Learning Classroom featuring world renowned early childhood curriculums within large, natural wood cabinets, a.k.a. Curriculum in a CupboardTM. The doors will open "and the walls will become the world all around" (Where the Wild Things Are, Maurice Sendak) opening up the world of Montessori, International Baccalaureate Primary Years Program, Te Whariki (New Zealand's national curriculum), Waldorf/Steiner, Reggio Emilia, etc. inspired curriculum to pre-service and in-service teachers highlighting various cultural and philosophical aspects of each of
