Online Teaching

Your resource for online teaching at Kent State University.
Design Build Teach

Kent State Online Framework

An intuitive framework for designing, building, and teaching your online course. With the Kent State Online Framework you can create and deliver high-quality courses faster and easier than ever.

Resource Library

The Resource Library is full of strategy documents, best practices, templates and tutorials for designing, building and teaching your course online.

Support

Designing, building and teaching online can be daunting even for the most experienced instructors. You are not alone! Learn about the extensive network of support available to you.

Workshops

The Online Learning Team offers a variety of informational sessions that support, reinforce, and extend the Kent State Online Framework for designing and developing high quality online courses. Informational sessions are available to all university online faculty.

Learn more about the Kent State Online Framework

www.kent.edu/onlineteaching

KENT STATE UNIVERSITY

Office of Continuing and Distance Education

Kent State Online

Informational Sessions and Workshops

Best Practices in Online Teaching

Designing with Quality Matters

Applying the Quality Matters Rubric

Kent State Online Template

Preparing an Online Course for Delivery

Building an Accessible Online Course

Teaching

Development

Design

Maintenance

Want to know more?

www.kent.edu/onlineteaching/workshops

Sign up for the

Online Teaching Listserv

Your connection to news, resources, faculty peer interaction, tips, best practices and a variety of other relevant information for online instructors.

http://bit.ly/onlineteaching-listserv

KENT STATE UNIVERSITY

Office of Continuing and Distance Education