

KENT STATE UNIVERSITY MEN'S BASKETBALL

SENSORY-FRIENDLY GAME EXPERIENCE

A SOCIAL STORY

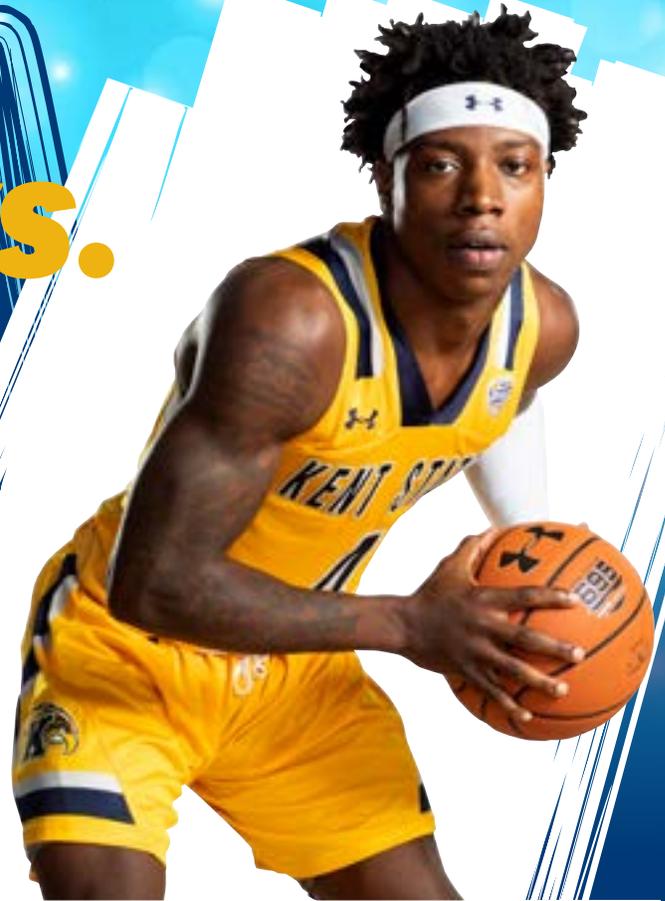

On December 21, my family and I will be going to Kent State University to see a basketball game at the MAC Center.

vs.

The Kent State University Golden Flashes basketball team will be playing the Pirates of Hampton University.

The game starts at 7 p.m., but before we can go inside to see the game, ticket takers and security staff will be there to check our bags and make sure we are safe.

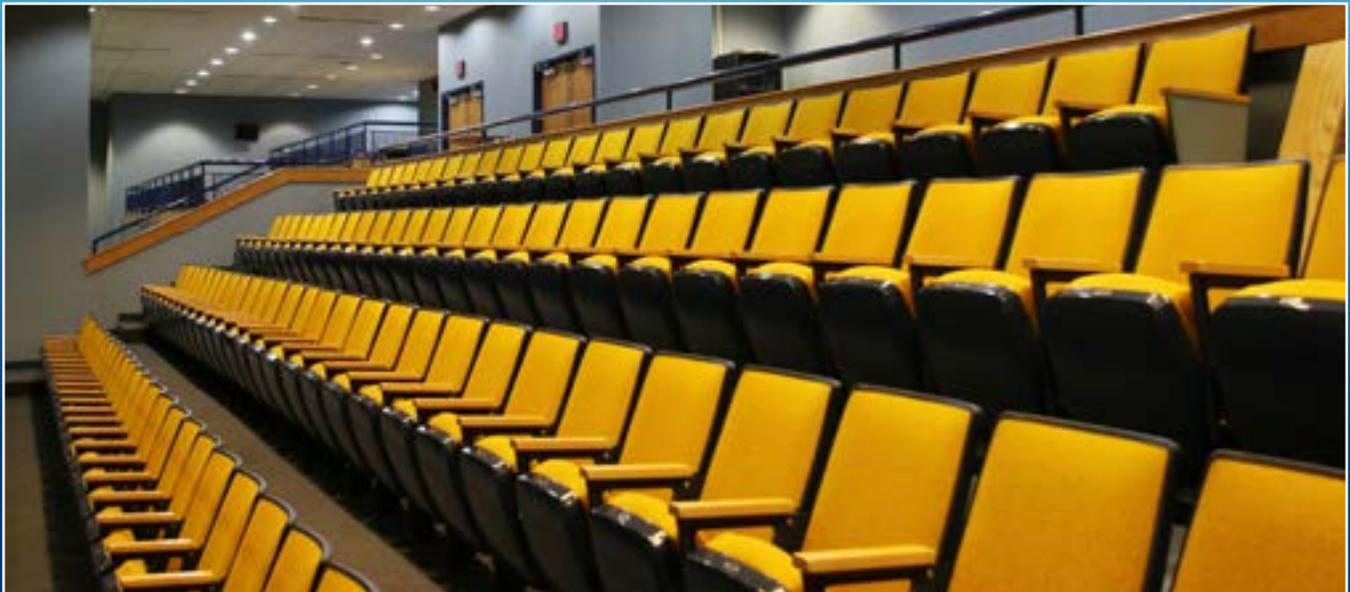

Once inside you will see a lot of people in the concourse walking around.
It could be a bit noisy.

Once inside you will see that the MAC Center holds a lot of people that will be cheering and screaming. There will be some bright lights and noises, like buzzers and whistles.

But that is OK. Some of the lights and noises will be turned down, and there will be quiet places where we can go to take a break and calm down.

Fidget toys, headphones and other things will be available for checkout if I need them.

Those toys and bags will be at guest relations by the concession stands.

If I need any help, there will be security staff and ushers who can assist me and my family. Here is what they look like.

The MAC Center has lots of good snack choices for me to eat and drink, but I need to make sure it is OK with my family first.

At these basketball games they have a friendly mascot named FLASH. Maybe I can meet him at the game.

The game will end around 9 p.m. and I will go home right after the game.

I will be rooting for Kent State to win.
It is my favorite team!
