ALEKS CHEMISTRY PLACEMENT INSTRUCTIONS:

If your intended major requires you to take General Chemistry I (CHEM 10060), you must take the online ALEKS Chemistry assessment. You will be required to demonstrate mastery of any concepts missed in the online assessment by working in the program after you assess. This assessment will be available in early July for students registered for CHEM 10060 for fall. The initial assessment takes about one hour to complete; however, additional time may be needed to learn concepts with which you were not familiar. The Academic Success Center at Kent State Stark will offer ALEKS Chemistry Placement Prep Sessions over the summer to help you prepare for the assessment. You will be contacted at a later date with specific details about the assessment and prep sessions.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE PLACEMENT INSTRUCTIONS (optional):

If your intended major requires you to take foreign language courses, or if you think you might take a foreign language class during your first semester, you are welcome to take the foreign language placement now. Your advisor will discuss your placement with you. This is not required but will be helpful should you need to take a foreign language course during your first semester.
